Leisure case studies....

Project Name: Paul - Newbury

Project Value: £250k

Project Duration: 7 weeks

Background:

This project was the continuation of Triton's successful working partnership Cotton Thomson Cole and the start of a partnership with a new client, Paul.

The Development:

The internal fit out of a vacant unit to create a new boulangerie for Paul UK. The scope of works consisted of a back of house store room and plant room with designated areas for refrigeration units and a staff room. Customer toilets and a washing up area were also be constructed. The front of house will have a service counter and baking area with seating for customers and a new shop front will be installed to the front façade. High spec timber flooring was installed to the dining area, tiling to the grab and go area, polyflor vinyl to the back of house baking area. New plumbing will be installed throughout to serve kitchen and toilet areas, new electrics including LED lighting installed throughout the ceilings and a new fire alarm system installed.

Triton pulled on its wealth of knowledge when dealing with the centre management on this scheme, having worked in shopping centres previously gave us an advantage of pre-empting what was expected from a delivery point of view and also with regards to the range of health and safety requirements.

GAUCHO

Project Name: Gaucho – Chancery Lane

Project Value: £105,000

Project Duration: 3 weeks

Background:

This project was the start of Triton's successful working partnership with Gaucho and Cotton Thomson Cole.

The Development:

This development saw Triton successfully complete the bars, cook line, kitchen and back of house refurbishment of the centrally located London Gaucho restaurant.

The biggest challenge for our site management team was to maintain the extremely tight schedule, completing phased works over 24 hour weekend periods whilst the end goal was to promptly re-open the restaurant to the public for Monday lunch time service. Productivity was essential with a range of trades working simultaneously in a small area.

With a three weekend deadline, Jason Lilley (Triton's Commercial Manager) took a typically 'hands on' role, liaising with the client's design team and our supply chain to ensure every aspect of the project ran smoothly, without interruption and to the highest of finishes.

Project Name: J.D. Weatherspoons
Playhouse Colchester

Project Value: £50k

Project Duration: 15 Days

Background:

This project was the start of Triton's successful working partnership with JD Wetherspoons.

The Development:

This back of house development saw Triton successfully complete the refurbishment of staff and toilet areas comprising of the full strip out of existing facilities, construction of new toilet and changing facilities including service alterations and associated finishes.

The challenges on this job were to successfully maintain the staff areas as a fully functioning and unhindered space and to ensure the stringent health and safety regulations were fully adhered to at all times with the site being part of the public domain.

Time scale on this project was extremely tight, just 15 days. Tritons Contracts Manager, Mark Rowe took his usual hands on approach in liaising with all the sub-contractors and the client and delivering the completed refurbishment on time and on budget.

COURCHEVEL
SAVOIE - FRANCE

Project Name: Ski Lodge for Private Client

Project Value: £1,0m

Project Duration: 18 weeks

Background:

Following Triton's successful working partnership with Icewit Design, we were asked to complete these works for one of their most prestigious high net-worth clients.

The Development:

This development saw Triton successfully complete the refurbishment and fit out of this stunning Alpine ski residence in Courcheval, France. This unusual commission was a very gratifying vote of confidence in Triton's reliability and quality by the designers – Halo Design Interiors and Icewit Design Partnership and as a direct result of our exemplary performance on previous works, which saw all projects delivered on time and within budget.

The biggest challenge for our site management team was to maintain productivity especially with a range of trades working simultaneously in a relatively small area. In order to meet the pre-Christmas holiday deadline, Paul Duffy (Triton's Managing Director) took a typically 'hands on' role, liaising with the client's design team and our supply chain to ensure the client's vision for the property was realised. Successful delivery of the project was achieved through our careful management of a multi-national supply chain, designer's vision and client's requirements. The project earned Triton much praise from a delighted client.

HASLAM'S

Project Name: Reading
Project Value: £660k
Project Duration: 13 weeks

Background:

Building a leading position as one of the UK's most experienced Estate Agent shopfitting contractors, Triton Interiors were called upon to handle this ground-breaking estate agency site by Haslams, one of Reading's biggest residential property agents.

The Development:

An extensive project saw Triton take possession of two floors of an existing property on Friar Street, Reading. As well as the main Open-Plan workspace and accompanying Offices and Consultation Rooms we also delivered a Public Sales Bar, Food Prep, Comms Room complete with Staff Room and Restroom facilities. A major undertaking saw the installation of a new stair and balustrading around the mezzanine level and a complete M&E package of works with HVAC and lighting installed throughout.

Of particular interest on this project was the variety of floor, wall and ceiling finishes throughout the site with each area receiving several different treatments.

To the floors we fitted; carpet, stone, ceramics and engineered timber planks whilst to the walls we installed; timber cladding, dry-lining, sand-blasted tiles and generally reclaimed and/or renovated the exposed structure throughout. To the ceilings we installed; plasterboard mf to various areas, floating feature rafts, lay-in grids and again renovated and exposed existing structural elements across both floors.

Finally, externally, we created three new apertures along Friar Street facilitating improved levels of natural daylight into the property and refurbished all existing external stonework and install shopfront sections themselves.

Project Name: Barnet
Project Value: £350k
Project Duration: 10 weeks

Background:

Triton Interiors have an excellent working relationship with Foxtons Estate Agents and have been chosen to fit out many of their new properties.

The Development:

Creating Foxtons' Barnet branch involved the strip out of an existing commercial property, followed by an extensive structural remodelling of the front façade and internal layouts.

Working thoughtfully, to minimise disturbance to the occupied adjacent residential properties, the Triton project team was still able to effect the structural alterations required. This included the design and installation of temporary propping, structural steelwork installation and drainage alterations. Once the shell works were completed, we undertook a complete fit out, including a full mechanical and electrical installation, shop fronts, joinery and Foxtons trade mark high quality finishes which incorporate the use of glass, solid surfacing, stainless steel and intricate stonework to stunning effect.

The Branch was considered by Foxtons to be the benchmark for quality for their latest design.

Project Name: Bracknell
Project Value: £250k
Project Duration: 9 weeks

Background:

Triton Interiors have an excellent working relationship with Romans Estate Agents and have been chosen to fit out many of their new and existing properties.

The Development:

This particular contract was our fourth for Romans, which we delivered simultaneously with the refurbishment at their Lower Earley premises. The project consisted of a fast track overhaul of the branch in just nine weeks.

Romans' continued faith in Triton Interiors was rewarded yet again, when we handed back a defect free unit on time and on budget and also in accordance with their demanding specification.

The project, together with the equally successful Lower Earley office refurbishment, led to a negotiated opportunity for major remodelling works to Romans Head Office.

Project Name: Peacocks - Bristol

Project Value: £250k

Project Duration: 4 weeks

Background:

Triton Interiors have embarked on a new working relationship with Peacocks and following this first completed project have been chosen to fit out many of their new properties.

The Development:

This particular contract was one of two where costing's were collated simultaneously, pulling on our experience in dealing with a clients requirements and tight deadlines. Triton delivered the complete refit of the Peacocks Bristol site, whilst liaising with centre management and the client on completing all aspects of Health and Safety as well as a detailed and expertly finished end product.

This project was an extremely successful first contract with Peacocks and has lead to the start of a long relationship.

Commercial case studies....

Project Name: Lidl HQ
Project Value: £164k
Project Duration: 8 weeks

Background:

The Lidl store in Dagenham tasked us with taking an empty unit and creating additional office space. The scope of works included installation of new meeting rooms upstairs and downstairs, ground floor toilets and a bespoke staircase tying the space together.

The Development:

Assessment of the building showed that the initial hurdle to overcome was the installation of the mezzanine floor that would support the upstairs area as this was a void space. We installed a large birdcage scaffolding to enable staff to gain access to higher areas, install the floor and begin creating the meeting room space until the staircase was to be installed.

Access to our working area was through the rear of the store's delivery area and here we had to ensure our works did not interfere with the day to day running of the store, the staff and deliveries to the store continued unencumbered throughout the entirety of our programme.

The project was completed successfully, on time and on budget.

Project Name: Portcullis House

Project Value: £100k

Project Duration: 6 weeks

Background:

Portcullis House is a government building in London that forms part of the Parliamentary Office complex specifically reserved for MP's. Here we were tasked with installing a new security entry system in their reception area, which was to include a new conveyor belt and scanning system and a walk through metal detector.

The Development:

Within these works Triton installed oak panelling, replaced flooring and removed the existing concrete seating which was to be relocated to the office's storage area. Restrictions to these works applied throughout and we were required to erect a hoarding within the reception area to enclose the seating removal works as the offices had a constant stream of visitors including schoolchildren, media TV crews, members of the general public and the MP's themselves.

The main bulk of works were undertaken out of hours, so as to cause as little disruption to the day to day running of this busy public building. Deliveries to site were restricted as this is a police guarded building, and so Triton had to impose special measures to ensure the works could be undertaken efficiently. This project came in on time and on budget.

'Thanks for your help and support in getting it into such a good shape in a tight timescale. The branch looked fantastic last week, and I know Romans are pleased with the result.'

Sam Atwell – Project Manager – Romans

'Just wanted to pass on my thanks to you and the team for a cracking job in Bristol, and snag free as well, all in 26 days, well done to all of you. The retail team are delighted with the result, which will give them ample time to merchandise without worrying about snagging issues etc. Once again, many thanks to everyone involved and look forward to working with you again.'

PEACOCKS
QUALITY & VALUE

Nigel Gledhill – Head Of Projects, Peacocks Ltd

'I commend them on their performance and standard of finish, the attention to detail was very impressive. Altogether we were very impressed with the standard of workmanship and are currently looking for further opportunities where Triton and Lidl can work together in the future'.

Phil Daley – Construction Manager – Lidl UK

'Triton Contracts have again been a pleasure to work with. This is my third project with them and despite a number of client changes being made on our last project together, which was let on a design and build basis, Triton were able to take them in their stride. The team I have worked with are very proactive and delivery focused. I'm looking forward to our next project together.'
